Microneedling

MICRONEEDLING

Micro-needling infusion therapy is an advanced aesthetic treatment used to target many skin concerns including fine lines and wrinkles, sun damage, brown spots and pigmentation, open pores, congested skin, mild acne scarring, and dry and dehydrated skin. A roller that contains 180 superfine needles stimulates collagen production and cell renewal, and helps plump, firm and smooth the skin. As the roller creates the micro channels in your skin, the system simultaneously enables the infusion of a potent serum to boost the impact of the needling treatment. This effectively leaves your skin with a glowing complexion and instant results; you can apply mineral makeup immediately, and then sit back and see your skin improve daily.

Microdermabrasion

This results-driven treatment is one of the easiest and most effective anti-aging treatments you can get. It is a painless, noninvasive, skin-rejuvenation procedure using a combination of tiny crystals and vacuum suction applied to the skin. Its benefits are many: it softens fine lines and wrinkles, helps to smooth coarsely textured skin, decreases the appearance of scarring, decreases pore size, and reduces superficial hyper-pigmentation, also known as age spots. It also makes it easier for high-tech skin care products to penetrate into the deeper layers of the skin and help build collagen, which gives skin its youthful appearance and provides you with instant gratification and an immediate, noticeable effect. Typically purchased as a series for best results, but one session will provide fantastic results.

Microblading

Microblading is a form of semi permanent makeup that creates natural, beautiful eyebrows with a handheld microblade. It's perfect for people who have over-tweezed or those who want to define, darken, or reshape their eyebrows. Technically, microblading is a form of eyebrow tattooing; unlike traditional tattooing, which uses a machine, microblading artists apply each hairstroke with a handheld microblade. This produces a very fine line that resembles real hair. Each individual hairstroke is hand drawn by the artist and blended in with the client's existing eyebrow hair to create gorgeous and lifelike results. McAllen Location Only $595+ » Additional service information can be found on our website.
